++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry with sunny spells.

Today:
Any early shallow fog will swiftly clear to leave a fine morning with sunny spells. Some fair weather cloud will build into the afternoon, but it will stay dry. Feeling cooler and fresher than of late in the breeze. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with clear spells for most tonight, however a few light showers may affect coastal areas at times. Turning chilly for many by morning. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Monday:
Some sunny spells on Monday morning, but gradually turning cloudy from the northwest. Some patchy light rain developing at times later in the afternoon, more especially across Cumbria and Lancashire. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Often cloudy over the next few days, and whilst there will be some bright spells, the cloud will be thick enough to give some patchy rain at times.
